This Catalogue comprises the results of quiet gathering during twenty-five years. Nearly all the works were carefully collected, as means and opportunity permitted, for specific use in work which had been carefully outlined, and was in process of patient elaboration. Unfortunately it has become impossible to maintain the scheme longer. At the order of authority, which is rightfully imperative, further work upon it, so far as present conditions indicate, has been finally discontinued. To obviate the possibility of injudicious infraction of the mandate, it has been very reluctantly decided to dispose of the entire collection.

Among the groups worthy of special notice are: Florida and Florida War, 1-41; Cherokee Controversy, 48-53; Virginia History, 67-86; Indian Territory, 141-163; Texas and Southwest, 164-199; Mexican War, 200-231; Mexico 232-264; Pacific Coast (South, Central and North America., 265-334; Transcontinental narratives prior to 1854, 335-404; Kansas, 406-433; British America and French Explorations, 443-495; Jesuit Relations, 496-506; New England, 515-601; New York, 602-709; New Jersey, 745-849; Central States,; Northwest and Mississippi Valley, 853-993; Indians, 995-1139; War of 1812, 1168-75; Indian Languages, 1196-1446; Genealogy, 1177-1195. Under each of these topics may be found works of special interest and eminent value.

The last sentence of note under No. 334 should be paragraphed as relating to the succeeding numbers.

OF THE

THESE THINGS BEING CONSIDERED, THE NATURE OF THE MATTER, AND THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE CASE, THE COURT IS OF OPINION THAT THE JURY SHOULD BE INSTRUCTED THAT
THE DEFENDANT IS GUILTY OF THE CRIME CHARGED IN THE INDICTMENT.
AND THAT HE IS SENTENCED TO THE PENITENTIARY FOR THE TERM OF YEARS, TO BE DETERMINED BY THE JURY.

THE COURT FURTHER ORDERS THAT
THE DEFENDANT BE CONFINED IN THE PENITENTIARY, AND THAT HE BE RECEIVED INTO THE SERVICE OF
THE STATE, TO BE EMPLOYED IN ANY MANNER THAT THE BOARD OF PENITENTIARY COMMISSIONERS MAY DEEM PROPER, UNTIL HE SHALL HAVE SERVED THE TERM OF YEARS
TO WHICH HE IS SENTENCED.

231 MANUSCRIPT. Narrative of Service under Gens. Taylor and Scott in Mexico by Capt. E. Backus of the 1st U. S. Infy.

These notes are in five covers, pp. 264, with three plans, and embrace the entire period of the war. Capt. Backus served with distinction in the valley of the Rio Grande, was Governor of the Castle of San Juan d' Ulloa after the capture of Vera Cruz, and was later actively employed about the City of Mexico till the close of hostilities. The mss. form a valuable contribution to the history of the war.

231a Copy (13 pages) of Capt Backus' Narrative, with notes by Capt. B. Also copy (21 pages) of a narrative of service in Mexico, by Capt. George Deas. (Valuable.)

The foregoing lots (200-231a) form an unusually valuable collection of original and contemporaneous authorities in relation to one of the most interesting and inglorious episodes in the history of our country.

240a Coleccion de Documentos para la Historia de Mexico
Publicado por Jaquin Garcia Icazbalceta. Tomo I.
Folio, paper. Mexico, 1855

241 MANUSCRIPT. Historia de Nueva Espana. Folio, calf.

This History, 146 leaves of exquisitely written text.
is the work of a Mexican Indian, a native of Michoacan, educated in the City of Mexico. In its composition he has studiously made use of existing historical works and also of original native sources. The volume is in every sense a creditable addition to the early history of his country.

242 Documentos para la Historia de Mexico. Tomo Prim-
ero. Folio, h. mor. Mexico, 1856

This vol. is the 1st of the 3d series documents (mainly hitherto unpublished) relating to the early history of Mexico. The vols. appeared in the form of feuillets in the Diario Oficial in the City of Mexico. Subsequently a few sets of these feuillets were gathered and bound. This one (all published of the 3d series) is the rarest and became at once unobtainable. It contains: [1] Teatio de Virtudes Politicas, pp. 88. Sketches of Mexican Rulers before the Conquest. [2] Memorial dado por Don Tray Domingo Pimentel y D. Juan Chamuco y Curillo a la Santidad del Papa Urbano VIII, pp. 184. This with two accompanying documents relates to certain ecclesiastical transactions between the Spanish Govt.
and the Holy See. [3] Traducccion de las Vidas y Martyrios que padecieron tres Ninos Principales de la Ciudad de Tlaxcala. pp. 28. [4] Relaciones de las todas Cosas que en el Nuevo-Mexico se han visto
y sabido desde el Ano 1538 hasta el de 1626, por el Padre Geronimo de Zarate Salmeron, pp. 208. [5]
Utiles y Curiosas Noticias del Nuevo-Mexico, Cibola
y otras Naciones Confinantes, pp. 18. [6] Computo Cronologico de los Indios Mexicanos, pp. 71. [7]

Viage de Indios y Diario del Nuevo-Mexico escrito por el R. P. Fray Juan Augustin de Morfi, pp. 184. Relates to Texas and New Mexico. [8] Descripcion Geografica, Natural y Curiosa de la Provincia de Sonora, Ano de 1764, pp. 128. [9] A Collection of Letters, Relations, &c, treating of the Indians, Missions and Government of the Northern Province of Mexico, pp. 316.

The vol. as a whole is a store of invaluable material for the early history of Mexico and the Southwestern Territories of the United States.

- 243 Rudo Ensayo, tentativo de una Prevencional Descripcion Geographica de la Provincia de Sonora, sus Terminos y Confines. 4to cl. San Augustin, Fla. 1863

- The writer was a Captain in the Spanish Navy. While on his way with despatches from the King, to New Spain, his frigate was taken by two Dutch vessels. After great difficulty he succeeded in reaching Mexico, where for more than a year he was entertained by R. P. Antonio de Acanto, Vicar General of the Order of Mercy. His narrative, written after his return to Spain, indicates that he sedulously improved every opportunity to gather valuable information. He gives a careful account of the inhabitants, products, mines, commerce and government of the country. Chap. 27 treats of the territories in the south-western part of the United States.

- Prince Zu Wied was a man of remarkable scientific taste. His narrative is replete with valuable, carefully digested, data relating to the topography, geology, ethnography and history of the country through which he passed. In his company was an artist, Karl Bodmer, who was employed to sketch scenes and objects of interest to the Prince on the route. His travels extended from the Atlantic seaboard to the Upper Yellowstone. Agassiz said: "This work is second in time to Lewis and Clark, but first in scientific value. It is a marvel of ability and accuracy."

New Edition. [Portrait.] 8vo, stitched, unc.
Topeka, 1886

One of only two uncut copies.—These two editions of the Annals present one of the finest illustrations in existence of how the essential facts, great and small, of history should be gathered and preserved.
They are not made up of matters of interpretation, nor of personal opinion, nor of how history should be revised for lay readers; but are as densely packed with items of actual history in the making as a thanksgiving turkey is of good meat. To a thinking man they are also quite as palatable. In these pages from the successes, the errors and infirmities of past conduct the Kansan may ever learn large lessons of prudential wisdom for future guidance. Originality provokes originality.

603 Documentary History of the State of New York. (Maps portraits, plates and plans.) 4 vols. 4to, cl. Albany, 1851

These two lots contain a vast amount of valuable historical matter. Though by title relating to New York, the contents of the volumes embrace more or less directly all the Northern territory of the United States as well as Southern Canada as far west as the Rocky Mountains. It is one of the most important contributions to the historical literature of our country ever made.

The usual sets of this work are more or less imperfect, apparently from mere carelessness in assembling the parts. Plates are wanting or other defects occur.

This set was by special permission from the publishers carefully made up by its first owner. He was allowed to select the signatures and plates of each vol. with a view to having them all present and in faultless condition. Long continued use as well as critical collation indicate that he succeeded. There are 336 full-page plates, many of them colored; numerous wood cuts, and frequent maps.

The position of this work, as concerns intrinsic value, is unique. Whatever Schoolcraft himself contributed is curious, often surprising, sometimes humiliating. With great opportunities and indefatigable industry, his utilising, comparative power was absolutely nil. In the midst of copious, valuable material his judgment was almost dormant, while fancy moved at random. After noting the famous manifestoes that he issued it is pitiable to find so feeble accomplishment. In spite of all this, however, the work is essential and indispensable. There are in it very many papers, contributed by well-informed specialists upon various topics of Indian antiquity, history, usage and language. These, happily, constitute a large portion of the volumes and are of permanent value. The work, in this way, will always remain a necessity to all Indian students.

- 1129 CATLIN, George. North American Indian Portfolio. Indian Scenes and Amusements of the Rocky Mountains and Prairies of America. Folio, half roan.

London, 1844

This is the most elaborate and worthy of Catlin's works and in the main well deserves all the favorable notice that has been bestowed upon it. The 25 colored plates are, with perhaps a single exception, faithful delineations of essential phases of primitive Indian life, as it existed fifty years ago; before the influences of an advanced civilisation had completely obliterated it and effectually disintegrated quite all the desirable and characteristic traits of the Indian himself. In this relation the volume will for all time be an ocular presentation of a form of life which is now entirely disappeared. What the author intended should be art has, therefore, already assumed the sturdier guise of enacted history.

- 1130 LEWIS, J. O. The Aboriginal Portfolio: or, a Collection of Portraits of the most celebrated Chiefs of the North American Indians. Folio, half calf.

Phil. 1836

It is rare that a lover of conscientious work experiences a more genuine satisfaction than is afforded in the examination of this volume. Mr. Lewis was evidently a man of persistent and enthusiastic purpose. The hardship and at times personal peril that he endured in gathering his material and the unaided heroism with which he finally succeeded in placing before an unappreciative public the results of his toilsome work are not easily paralleled. The meager contemporary notices of him that have been seen unite in presenting him as also a man of sterling worth and admirable unobtrusiveness. So retired was he that there is still much uncertainty as to the exact conditions under which his portraits were finally published, as well as to just how many were really issued. Usually 72 are counted a complete set. In this collection there are five additional Lewis portraits, raising the total to 77. So far as known the volume is unique. There are also inserted 22 duplicates. There are also in addition two plates from paintings, one by P. Rindisbacher, the other by T. R. Peale; and an Indian portrait, sketched by Jerome Thompson.

As to the historic value of the Lewis portraits there can be no question. In every detail they are among the most authentic Indian portraits ever produced. The author seeks to present the Indian lineaments precisely as he found them. Though not so artistic nor elaborate as the Le Moyne or Zu Wied sketches (Lots 7 and 354) they are equally valuable.

- 1131 McKENNY & HALL. History of the Indian Tribes of North America, with Biographical Sketches and Anecdotes of the Principal Chiefs. [120 colored portraits.] 3 vols. Folio, half mor. Phil. 1838

This work, from the favorable circumstances of its publication, and from recognized position and influence of its authors, has occupied a place in public esteem so prominent as to exclude almost entirely from view the works of Le Moyne, Lewis, Zu Wied and Catlin, already noted. In all respects it is admirable for the painstaking skill and taste with which it was executed, and creditable to the devotion and industry of its collaborators. To know it, however, at its true worth, it should always be studied comparatively, as one of a worthy series. The perspective, in which the Indian is here exhibited, loses none of its value because essentially independent. His historic character, though viewed somewhat poetically, is in no wise appreciably distorted.

- 1132 MORTON, Samuel George. Crania Americana. or, a Comparative View of the Skulls of Various Aboriginal Nations of North and South America. (Map, frontispiece, 78 plates and numerous cuts.) Folio, cl. uncut. London, 1839

Starting from an entirely independent standpoint and wrought out with an entirely distinct purpose Dr. Morton's extended and scholarly essay may in no way be better appreciated than in connection with works immediately preceding. Its special and enduring ethnological worth has from its first appearance been cordially recognized and freely utilised by comparative students. In this copy is found a fine portrait of the author and 10 additional plates.

- 1133 WILKES, Charles. United States Exploring Expedition. During the Years 1838-42. Vol. 7. Ethnography and Philology. By Horatio Hale. (3 maps.) 4to, cl. uncut. Phil. 1846

The appropriateness of this vol. in the present connection will be readily discerned in the 150 pages of carefully gathered and scientifically presented data relating to the ethnology and philology of the tribes of our Northwest. Mr. Hale's contributions will always continue to be of indispensable value to scientific students.

- 1134 MORGAN, Lewis H. Systems of Consanguinity and Affinity in the Human Family. [14 plates.] 4to, bds, uncut. Wash. 1870

Nearly half of this work relates to the Indians of the United States. Mr. Morgan's plan was original and philosophical. His own contributions are extremely meritorious. The only limitation in intrinsic worth is the author's lack of personal acquaintance with the philological data. He was obliged to take nearly all of these at second hand, and not infrequently from who were as emphatic as they were ignorant.

- 1135 POWELL, J. W. Annual Reports of the Bureau of Ethnology to the Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, 1879-85. 6 vols. (Maps and illustrations.) Royal 8vo, cl. Wash. v. d.

- 1136 Annual Reports of the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution. 22 vols. 8vo, cl.

Wash. v. d.

This lot comprises all the Repts. in which papers relating to Indians or American Ethnology are found.

To accompany Gallatin's Essay in Vol. II is a Manuscript Index, 12mo, carefully prepared by Dr. E. B. O'Callaghan. Every mention of each tribe is noted by page. As an indication of the minute care with which the Index is prepared it may be mentioned that over 500 tribal names or designations are entered. With many of the names references are also made to other authors. To any one consulting Gallatin's Essay the Index will be an invaluable aid.
